A new open access, fully peer reviewed journal which will publish high quality, high interest, far-reaching consequence of fundamental and applied research in microsystems and nanoengineering.

Authors benefit from:

- Emerging resource with emphases on fundamental research in MEMS & NEMS
- Wide exposure to a large global audience on nature.com
- Research Summaries of papers maximize your reach to interest a broader readership
- High quality peer-review and speedy on-line publication
- Internationally renowned editors and editorial board

Why not consider preparing your next excellent paper for Microsystems & Nanoengineering?
